

Bio Roxane J. King

Roxane J. King is a CA & OH State Courts Judicial Certified Spanish Interpreter

Roxane was born and raised in Madrid, Spain and she spent some of her early years living in California as a child and then returned to Spain to finish her schooling. Exposed to various languages all of her life interpreting was always her passion and initiated her career as a tour guide interpreter in Madrid and also assisted the ONCE Foundation in recording books in Spanish and English for the blind as she pursued her studies. Upon her return to the United States she studied, trained and completed her degree in Southern California.

She got her start in the Los Angeles court system in 2006 at all levels: legal, trial, depositions, arbitrations, witness interviews, expert witness testimony, hearings and resolutions and Immigration Court. She is now based in Cleveland, OH where she works daily in the Cleveland Courts promoting and advocating for the profession as she serves.

“As Judicial Certified interpreters and officers of the court we have an ethical obligation and a duty to protect the record as we are bound and under oath to be neutral parties in serving and assisting the courts carry out due process by adhering to all ethical standards and maintaining high quality of personal and professional conduct that apply to our profession. We as members of a learned profession are dedicated to public service and we strive to promote public confidence in the administration of justice.”

Roxane has full understanding of trial execution, what the courts require in many states during legal proceedings and practical, professional and ethical considerations and tasks of court interpreting from the initiation of project launching, rapid team workshop preparation, pre-trial set up, trial execution and post-trial support.

Roxane is an active member of NAJIT, ATA, CCIO and NOTA.

.