The Irreplaceable Human Element

About NAJIT

The National Association of Judiciary Interpreters and Translators promotes the highest professional standards in interpreting and translation. Professional interpreting is required to ensure due process, equal protection and equal access to the administration of justice for non-English or limited English proficient (LEP) individuals. Judiciary interpreters work in court settings, but also out of court, when the proceedings may have legal consequences. For example, professional legal interpreters are required for accurate interpretation during depositions, administrative hearings or attorney-client interviews. Professional legal interpreters are also used in law enforcement investigations, or in the review, transcription and translation of recorded evidence NAJIT members include judiciary interpreters and translators, as well as conference, community and medical interpreters. NAJIT boasts a growing number of interpreters and translators who work between English and all major non-English spoken languages as well as American Sign Language (ASL), and counts among its members judicial officers and administrators, language service providers, academics and interpreting and translation students. While most of our membership resides in the U.S, some members live and work in Latin America, Europe, Asia and Australia. Anyone with an interest in the field of legal interpreting and translating or who shares NAJIT's interests and objectives is welcome to join.

MISSION STATEMENT

NAJIT's mission is to promote continuing excellence and ensure professional recognition for judiciary interpreters and translators, by advocating, upholding, and safeguarding the highest professional standards. The Association provides practitioners with in-person, digital, and virtual forums where they can network, share experiences, and research topics in a timely fashion, supporting these activities with training and educational opportunities to build on their field-specific knowledge, hone their interpretation and translation skills, mentor and be resources for each other. NAJIT brings together the strength of its members in one united front to pursue initiatives that benefit the best interests of judiciary interpreters and translators.

Beyond AI 2026
